	RUSSELL'S SCREW POWER Combined Mower and Reaper, WITHOUT COG GRARKIN.
	The Lightest Draft Javor in the World.
	T is the object of Farmers in purchasing a Machine to buy the best and cheapest. Both these objects will be attained by buying Russell's Screw Power.
	The great amount of power lost in overrunning the friction of all Cogged Harvester, is saved in the Screw Power, by which we can offer the lightest draft Mowers and Reapers in the world. This fact has been fully demonstrated by the various tests by Dynamometer and otherwise, to which the machine has been subjected during the last two seasons. Among the various points of superiority in this machine are the following: The use of open maleable iron guards, with a steel plate or face, ground to a cutting edge. This, with the hulks, gives a perfect sheer cut.
	Double Hinged Finger Bar.—No Mower can do good work on all kinds of meadows without a flexible bar. This bar can be raised and easily fastened, while passing from field to field.
	Patent Adjustable Reel, performing its work equally as well upon rough ground as upon a level field.
	There is no side Draft, or weight upon the horses' necks.
	New and peculiar form of Shoe, which will mow when mowing, with a light pull when the Reaper is attached.
	The subscriber, who is Agent for this machine, has fully tested it the last season, in wheat, grass, clover and oats, and feels satisfied that all who see this machine work will have no other.
	A specimen machine can be seen by calling on the subscriber, near Gettysburg, on the Harrisburg road.

Do not be persuaded to purchase articles at 45 to 81 which do not contain the virtues of a 13 cent Bottle of Madame Porter's Curative Balsam, the cost of manufacturing which is as great as that of almost any other medicine; and the profit at which it is sold, makes the profit to the seller apparently small, and unprincipled dealers will sometimes recommend other medicines on which their profits are larger, unless the customers insist upon having Madame Porter's and none other.

Ask for Madame Porter's Curative Balsam, price 13 cents, and in large bottles at 25 cents, and take no other. If you cannot get it at one store you can at another.

The one Thing Needful.

PHYSICIANS, with a unanimity that is truly remarkable, now recommend to their patients the use of the HOFLAND'S CURA-MAN BITTERS, as a preventive against all sorts of weakness. They give tone to the system, by purifying the blood, and invigorating the digestive apparatus. Mothers who are nursing, and old men find them invaluable. They should be introduced into our Hospitals, and if they were more generally used among our soldiers, all camp diseases would disappear. These Bitters have been before the public over fifteen years, and their popularity is still on the increase. Their reputation is known in every country upon the globe, and in fact they are more universally used than all others. We do not urge any one to take these Bitters, who imagine that no benefit will be derived thereby, but this we do know, that those who have used them, would not be without them for the world.

THE OLDEST ARMY CONTRACTOR IN THE COUNTRY.—John Noble, the present contractor for furnishing Carlisle barracks with beef, may be regarded as the oldest army contractor in the country, or as coming from a family of men who have filled contracts with the Government for many years. The father of Mr. Noble supplied Carlisle barracks with beef as early as 1811—and was the contractor for making up that portion of the commissary stores for the troops which went to the aid of the army then operating on the Canada border. John Noble succeeded his father, and is now, as we have mentioned, the beef contractor of the barracks. These facts indicate that the Noble family have been faithful in their dealings with the Government, or they would not thus long have remained in its employ.

WASHINGTON., March 25.—Col. Wells, Provost Marshal General at Alexandria, sent out a party from Company D, 1st Michigan Cavalry, dismounted, on Wednesday evening, under command of Lieutenant Jackson, in search of guerrillas. They went by steamer to Frostown Point, and from thence through the woods about ten miles, where they captured Captain Hannegan, a well known guerrilla chief, and three men, six shot guns, muskets, and rifles, three revolvers, and one horse, and returned safely this morning. Hannegan is a dangerous man, and has often boasted that he would not be captured alive.

There were found upon him papers and permits from the Rebel authorities, permitting him to go where he pleased "within the enemy's lines."

Whether Abraham Lincoln ever perpetrated the following or not, the humor imputed to him is worthy of even the President of the United States. The Washington correspondent of the Boston Herald first gave publicity to the President's good-natured criticism of his subordinates. The story is as follows:

"Judge Baldwin, of California, an old and highly respectable and sedate gentleman, called a few days since on General Halleck, and, presuming upon a familiar acquaintance in California a few years since solicited a pass outside of our lines to see a brother in Virginia, not thinking that he would meet with a refusal, as both his brother and himself were good Union men. 'We have been deceived too often,' said General Halleck, 'and I regret I can't grant it.' Judge B. then went to Stanton, and was very briefly disposed of with the same results. Finally he obtained an interview with Mr. Lincoln, and stated his case. 'Have you applied to General Halleck?' inquired the President; and met with a flat refusal," said Judge B. "Then you must see Stanton," continued the President. "I have, and with the same result, was the reply. 'Well, then,' said Old Abe, with a smile of good humor, 'I can do nothing for you, but know that I have very little influence with this Administration.'

DECISION UNDER THE PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION.—An important decision in the District of Columbia Superior Court, on Wednesday, established the law that a party claiming the occupation of his property under the President's proclamation should, within the prescribed sixty days, "cease to aid, countenance, and abet such rebellion, and return to his allegiance to the United States;" and that the simple removal from a rebellious to a loyal State was not intended to be such returned allegiance." This decision was made in the case of Wm. Shields, who left Washington in April, 1861, for Richmond, where he remained until August last, when he came to Baltimore. His property in Washington being seized, he sought to prevent its condemnation on the ground that he had done no treasonable act since the passage of the confiscation act. The court, however, decided, as stated above, that his mere removal to Baltimore was not what the law required, but that he must have established the fact of his restored loyalty by some act of solemn and decided import, before he could be admitted to claim the benefit of the law. His property was therefore declared condemned.

A REVERE JOKER.—The Richmond W.H.Y. publishes, as a capital joke, the fact that a rich Jew, named Hyman, has recently been robbed by the Rebel pickets near Richmond of $20,000 in gold. Hyman, it appears had sold his house and furniture, and turned all his assets into gold, and then obtained a pass to leave. The patriotic pickets had no objections to letting Hyman leave, but they clung to his money bags with a tenacity worthy of the owner. Such things happened in the year 1898, when Richard L. was crowned.

CONVICTION.—Joseph Moore, charged with the murder of Jordan Marbourg at Johnstown, has been found guilty of murder in the second degree, and sentenced to the penitentiary for six years. The jury, we understand, signed a petition to the Governor for his pardon. The verdict was totally overlooked, as it was the general opinion the prisoner would be acquitted upon the ground of insanity. The conviction of Moore, for the murder of Marbourg, is a rare instance of the slayer of a seducer and adulterer being convicted of murder in any degree before a Pennsylvania jury.

General W. F. Smith, whom the Senate confirmed as Major General, will have a command in the East, next to Gen. Grant. His position will be really Chief of Staff to the Lieutenant General, and as such will direct the movements of whoever may be nominally in command of the Army of the Potomac. It is understood that Grant after reorganizing the army to his satisfaction, will give the Rebels a taste of his fighting qualities before he returns West.

BRIGHAM YOUNG'S BOYS.—Two more of Brigham Young's sons arrived at St. Joseph's, Mo., from Salt Lake. Their names are Joseph W. and Joseph A. Young, respectively; for it is known that Brigham has so many children (or rather his wives have) that he can't afford to give them all a separate name.

D. R. SWEET'S INFALLIBLE LINIMENT, for sale!

CINCINNATI, March 24.—A despatch from China says: We have received good news from the Red River expedition which comes from undoubted authority. Gen. A. J. Smith led his force from transports a few miles below Fort De Rossey, when the Rebel General Dick Taylor promptly marched against him with his whole force, and attacked him in rear.

General Smith, instead of attempting to keep up his communication with the river, proceeded by forced marches towards the fort, and when Gen. Dick Taylor saw the smart trick he started for the same destination, and for a time the race seemed doubtful, but finally the Yankees came in about three hours ahead, capturing the fort and eleven guns, four of them, Parrott's, one an 11-inch and several 32-pounders.

This gives General Smith a strong foothold in the country, and will enable Admiral Porter to proceed to Alexandria with his gunboats without opposition.

FORT MONROE., March 25.—The despatch steamer Fort Jackson arrived this morning from the blockading fleet off Wilmington, and reports a great number of wrecks all along the coasts from Cape Hatteras to Cape Henry. Spars and fragments of wrecks were seen floating on the water. The steamer Calypso sailed down the coast to-day to render assistance.

In addition to the general order arranging the corps of the Army of the Potomac, and relieving some of the general offices, as already published, we learn that General Pleasanton has been relieved from the command of the cavalry corps, and is to report to General Rosecrans; that Gen. Sykes is to report to General Curtis; Gen. Newton is to report to General Sherman; General French is to report to Philadelphia; General Meredith at Cairo; Gen. Spangler to a court martial; General Caldwell to sit on a court martial, and Generals Ricketts, Gibbon, and Wadsworth, to report to General Meade, for assignment to command.

Whether Abraham Lincoln ever perpetrated the following or not, the humor imputed to him is worthy of even the President of the United States. The Washington correspondent of the Boston Herald first gave publicity to the President's good-natured criticism of his subordinates. The story is as follows:

CINCINNATI, March 24.—A despatch from China says: We have received good news from the Red River expedition which comes from undoubted authority. Gen. A. J. Smith led his force from transports a few miles below Fort De Rossey, when the Rebel General Dick Taylor saw the smart trick he started for the same destination, and for a time the race seemed doubtful, but finally the Yankees came in about three hours ahead, capturing the fort and eleven guns, four of them, Parrott's, one an 11-inch and several 32-pounders.

This gives General Smith a strong foothold in the country, and will enable Admiral Porter to proceed to Alexandria with his gunboats without opposition.

General Smith, instead of attempting to keep up his communication with the river, proceeded by forced marches towards the fort, and when Gen. Dick Taylor saw the smart trick he started for the same destination, and for a time the race seemed doubtful, but finally the Yankees came in about three hours ahead, capturing the fort and eleven guns, four of them, Parrott's, one an 11-inch and several 32-pounders.

This gives General Smith a strong foothold in the country, and will enable Admiral Porter to proceed to Alexandria with his gunboats without opposition.

FORT MONROE, March 25.—The despatch steamer Fort Jackson arrived this morning from the blockading fleet off Wilmington, and reports a great number of wrecks all along the coasts from Cape Hatteras to Cape Henry. Spars and fragments of wrecks were seen floating on the water. The steamer Calypso sailed down the coast to-day to render assistance.

In addition to the general order arranging the corps of the Army of the Potomac, and relieving some of the general offices, as already published, we learn that General Pleasanton has been relieved from the command of the cavalry corps, and is to report to General Rosecrans; that Gen. Sykes is to report to General Curtis; Gen. Newton is to report to General Sherman; General French is to report to Philadelphia; General Meredith at Cairo; Gen. Spangler to a court martial; General Caldwell to sit on a court martial, and Generals Ricketts, Gibbon, and Wadsworth, to report to General Meade, for assignment to command.

Whether Abraham Lincoln ever perpetrated the following or not, the humor imputed to him is worthy of even the President of the United States. The Washington correspondent of the Boston Herald first gave publicity to the President's good-natured criticism of his subordinates. The story is as follows:

"Judge Baldwin, of California, an old and highly respectable and sedate gentleman, called a few days since on General Halleck, and, presuming upon a familiar acquaintance in California a few years since solicited a pass outside of our lines to see a brother in Virginia, not thinking that he would meet with a refusal, as both his brother and himself were good Union men. 'We have been deceived too often,' said General Halleck, 'and I regret I can't grant it.'

At the same time and place will be sold a good Threshing Machine.

Attenders will be given and terms made known on day of sale by JOEL B. DANNA, CHARLES B. POLLEY, Executors.

THE ADAMS SENTINEL AND GENERAL ADVERTISER.

Kidnapping the President.

The New York Tribune publishes an interesting letter written, it says, by a gentleman who was until recently employed in the War Department of the Rebel government, but who managed finally to escape to within our lines. We add extracts from the letter:

In a former communication I stated that a plan had been submitted to the Rebel War Department by Col. Margrave, who had been a considerable time an emissary in the North, to kidnap President Lincoln and carry him to Richmond, or if it should be found impossible to escape with him to the Rebel lines, to assassinate him. Owing to a change in the position of the armies about this time the plan proposed was rendered impracticable.

In the early part of November, and only a few days before he was sent North, Col. Margrave submitted another plan, the details of which may be interesting to the reader. To give the plan in minutia would occupy too much space, and a digest of it will prove quite intelligible.

One hundred and fifty picked men were to go secretly North and take quarters in Washington, Georgetown, Baltimore and Alexandria, so as to be able to communicate daily with each other; and upon a day fixed by their leader, were to assemble in Washington, for the purpose of making the seizure. The President, it was claimed, could be easily seized at a quiet hour, at the White House, or in going to or returning from church, or on some other favorable occasion, and thrust into a carriage and driven off. The carriage was to be joined, a few miles out of the city, by twenty-five or thirty armed men, on horseback. It was proposed to drive to Indian Point, about twenty-five miles South of Washington, on the Potowmack — two or three relays of fleet horses being stationed on the way—where a boat was to be in waiting to cross the river, and land the captive a few miles south of Ossipee, where it would be an easy matter for his captors to work their way with him thro' the woods by night into the Rebel lines.

To prevent pursuit, every bridge between Washington and Indian Point was to be mined beforehand, and blown up as soon as the captive and his captors had crossed. Huge trees were also to be ready cut and thrown across the road in various places, as soon as they had passed, by men stationed along for the purpose, who were afterwards to separate and escape as best they could.

The Secretary of War thought this scheme might succeed; but he doubted whether such a proceeding would be of a military character and justifiable under the laws of war. He promised, however, to consult the President and Mr. Benjamin; but what conclusion was arrived at I am unable with certainty to say. About a week, however, after the plan was submitted, and the same day that Col. Margrave left for the North, I asked Mr. Wellford, who is familiar with all the secrets of the Department, if the plan had been adopted, and he answered, "You will see Old Abe here in the Spring as sure as God." A few days afterward I was sent to Atlanta, and never returned to Richmond to hear about the matter.

But this is not the only scheme by any means that has been devised for kidnapping our President. Last summer a club or society of wealthy citizens of Richmond was formed for the purpose of raising a fund for this object. Circulars were sent to trustworthy citizens in every other city and town in the Confederacy, inviting co-operation in the grand undertaking, and an immense sum of money was subscribed. The firm of Henry & Co., bankers, in Richmond, subscribed $10,000, and Skinner & Arants, auctioneers, subscribed $5,000; and I have heard on good authority that there were several in the capital who subscribed even more liberally than the parties named, but who they were I do not know. One man of Charleston, S. C., whose name I have forgotten, subscribed $20,000. It was proposed, when all was ready, to obtain furlough for Mosby, and make him leader of the enterprise.

Whether these schemes have been abandoned, or whether the kidnappers are only awaiting a favorable opportunity to execute them, remains to be seen; but certain it is that too much caution cannot be observed by the President, or the military commanders stationed at the Capital.

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH AND SLAVERY.—At the outbreak of the rebellion, Brownson's Quarterly Review was almost the only advocate of an Anti-Slavery policy among all the Catholic journals. The great majority of them were violently opposing every Anti-Slavery measure of the Government, and acting in concert with the ultra Peace faction of the Northern Democracy. But the progress of the war has wrought among them several conversions. The Cincinnati Telegraph, the organ of Archbishop Purcell, was the first to come over to the Anti-Slavery party, and to admit and exhort to urge the necessity of abolishing Slavery throughout the United States. Its example has recently been followed by the Universe, the Catholic paper of Philadelphia, hitherto a violent Democratic and Anti-Administration sheet. In a late issue this paper admits that the peace of the Republic demands the abolition of Slavery; that the national current in favor of Emancipation grows steadily stronger and has become irresistible, and that it would be absurd to attempt to oppose it.

The Vallandigham family entertain feelings of admiration, not to say love, for the negro race in general, the female sex in particular, that is incredible. The race has furnished the stock in trade and the speech-admiring theme of the Ohio martyr for a number of years. But the younger members of the family outstrip him in their affection for the down trodden Africa. Perley Vallandigham, "a youth to fortune and to fame unknown," but nevertheless a nephew of the great Ohio martyr, is married to and lives with a negro woman in this city. His brother, living on the opposite side of the river, is also married to a negress.—Muscatine Journal.

A Louisiana Unionist who enlisted in the 12th Connecticut Regiment, and came with it on its recent furlough, recently said: "Since I came here I have heard more treasonable talk, and read more treasonable articles, than I did for months in the South among Southern men before I left there. The Union men of the South didn't present such talk within the Union lines."

THE ADAMS SENTINEL.

CETTYSBURG:

Tuesday Evening, March 29, 1864.

The Choice of the People for President.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Several of our citizens recently had an opportunity of conversing with Captain Charlier, of New York city, who was captured by the enemy at Gettysburg on the memorable 1st of July. He has just been released from Libby Prison, and from his statements we feel assured, that the reports in reference to the sufferings of our prisoners at Richmond are, by no means, exaggerated. They are actually destitute of the necessities of life, and the victims of the most barbarous cruelty. During the month of February the mortality among our men was five hundred. What a righteous retribution awaits the perpetrators of the so called Confederate Government.

The "Old Folks'" Concert passed off very handsomely—every one present being highly gratified. We understand that they have it in contemplation to give another soon, with a different program. We wish them success.

The bill incorporating the Soldiers' National Cemetery at Gettysburg, passed the House of Representatives last week.

Mr. Marshall read in place a further supplement to the act incorporating the Gettysburg Railroad Company.

The Senate on Tuesday, passed a bill to incorporate the Gettysburg and Emmitsburg Turnpike Road Company.

The House passed a further supplement to the act incorporating the Gettysburg Railroad Company.

The State Senate has passed a bill making the term of constables five years instead of one, as heretofore.

First National Bank of Gettysburg, Pa.—President, George Throue; Cashier, George Arnold.

Miss Sarah Taylor has been appointed Post-Mistress at Round Hill, Adams county, in the room of Mr. J. R. Shipley, resigned.

The First National Bank of Gettysburg, having determined to increase its Capital Stock to $100,000, there is yet an opportunity afforded to those who wish to make a good and safe investment to subscribe, and thus secure some of the stock. The Books are now open for subscription at the Bank.

March 29—1.

Senator Beebe, and Delegate Wheat of Morgan county, Va., who were at Berkley Springs a few days ago, were captured by some guerrillas, forty-five number, who dashed into the town, and captured them, with several other prominent Union men, and hurried them off to Dixie. A cavalry force was sent in pursuit from Martinsburg, but without any hope of overtaking them.

DEATH OF A CLERGYMAN.—Rev. F. A. M. Keller, pastor of St. James' Lutheran Church at Reading, Pa., died on the 18th instant, in the 44th year of his age, in Germantown, of an illness from which he had suffered for about a year past. Mr. Keller was a graduate of the Theological Seminary at Gettysburg.

The Impeachment of Judge Miller.

The House Committee on the Judiciary has been discharged from the consideration of memorials asking for the impeachment of District Judge Miller, of Wisconsin, there being nothing whatever against him to justify such a proceeding.

The Ways and Means Committee nearly perfected the tax bill. They are likely to come to Secretary Chase's views on whiskey, placing a dollar tax per gallon on it. The principal question is as to the time when it shall be believed. Some members favor eighty cents from May 1, and one dollar after January 1. It will probably be fixed at that rate after July 1.

The Committee, as usual, are adverse to taking the stock on hand.

Operations in Virginia will commence much sooner than many suppose.

General Grant will not waste time in idle reviews, but as soon as he obtains a knowledge of the material with which he is to operate, will make his offensive movements promptly and with a vigor which has recently been unparalleled.

The Quota of Pennsylvania.

HARRISBURG, March 25.—An investigation of the official figures discloses the fact that when credit is given to Pennsylvania for enlistments in the regular and marine service and navy, her quota, under the call for 500,000 men, will be nearly, if not quite full. The statement that the deficiency of Pennsylvania was 74,000 is incorrect, that being the entire number under all calls, allowing no credit to the veteran volunteers and new recruits since January 31. Governor Curtin has despatched his military secretary to Washington to procure an official correction of the mistake, which has done much to discourage the people and retard recruiting.

The National Cemetery.

The time for active operations in the Army is at hand; so far, we hope the final struggle in the contest with rebellion is about to commence. The Christian Commission appeals to their humane and patriotic fellow citizens, to aid them in administering to the sick and wounded soldiers, our own friends and kindred, who are perilous health and life in defense of our country and government. The Local Committee at Gettysburg earnestly request contributions of money and stores to be prepared and sent in without delay. We want bandages and cloths for dressing wounds, towels, handkerchiefs, shirts, drawers,

stockings, dried fruit, dried beef, jelly,

wine and spirits, or money to buy them.

We also suggest as a sufficient means of raising funds, that our citizens collect and contribute relics and mementoes from our battle-field, by the sale of which the city fairs, considerable sums can be realized.

Such articles are much desired and can be provided at small expense and trouble. Will not our ladies who so nobly labored in this good cause after the battles here, attend to this matter.

Contributions may be left with any of the undersigned Committee, who will make the proper disposition of them.
